The founder of the National Black Theatre Festival® (NBTF), Larry Leon Hamlin, coined the hybrid word “Marvtastic” which means there is nothing greater or better. “Marvtastic” describes the 2019 NBTF and this is a very special year – it's the 40th anniversary of the North Carolina Black Repertory Company as well as the 30th anniversary of NBTF. This historic event illuminates the powerful theatrical spirit and extraordinary talent of performers, designers, directors, producers and technicians from across the country and abroad.

During the next six life-impacting days, you will experience electrifying performances, informative workshops, riveting films and insightful spoken word poetry that will open your eyes to a new perspective on our culture’s artistic endeavors. Every evening culminates with a Celebrity Reception, Midnight Readers’ Theatre and the Late Night Words & Verses, formerly known as the Midnight Poetry Jam.

The star-studded Opening Night Gala gets underway with a vibrant parade of powerful African drummers and dancers of Otésha Creative Arts Ensemble followed by a grand and royal procession of more than 40 celebrities of stage and television. Get your tickets now for this marvtastic show.

Enjoy a taste of Broadway in the second part of this exciting evening with the Tony award-winning musical Jelly’s Last Jam presented by the North Carolina Black Repertory Company. Meet some members from the original Broadway cast.

Every evening culminates with a Celebrity Reception, Midnight Readers’ Theatre and the Late Night Words & Verses, formerly known as the Midnight Poetry Jam.

The evening concludes with festive dancing until the last beat of the African drums. Enjoy different genres of live music Thursday through Saturday at the Marriott Hotel and mingle with the stars following the evening performances.

Theatrical Productions
The 16th biennial NBTF will offer a wide range of over 100 theatrical performances. You have a selection of new works and Black classics performed by national and international professional Black theatre companies at multiple venues throughout Winston-Salem. Tickets range in price from $9–$56. Celebrity performances include Vivian Reed in Vivian Reed Sings Lena Horne, Michael Colyar in Michael Colyar’s Momma, internationally renowned South African actress Thembi Mtshali in Mother to Mother, Mariann Aalda in Gettin’ Old is a Bitch...But I’m Gonna Wrestle That Bitch to the Ground, and Kevin Mambo will portray Bass Reeves, the first black deputy U.S. marshal in the historical drama Cowboy. The Festival’s newest components are 48Hours in...™HOLY GROUND. Six playwrights re-imagine the African-American theatre classics. The plays will be cast, rehearsed, and produced as an evening of shorts over a 48-hour period. Shakespeare at Sunset will present Shakespeare’s Twelfth Night with a twist. Set in Jamaica, the play is called Twelfth Night, Or What You Will, Mon. The production will be directed by stage and television veteran Ted Lange, best known for his iconic role as Isaac on the long-running ABC series The Love Boat. See performance schedule for more details.

Artists Career Networking Showcase
This showcase provides an opportunity for artists, including actors, directors, playwrights, and designers (costume, lights, set, sound) to audition and interview with arts presenters, casting directors and theatre companies from across the United States. The showcase will be held on Thursday and Friday, August 1–2. Sign-up begins on Tuesday, July 30 at 10:00am. Facilitator/ Curator: Darsell Brittingham. (Embassy Suites Winston-Salem)
